

Plenary Session 2: Population Change and Policy at the Local and regional Levels

Napier 102 -Thursday 7th December, 10.45am-12.15pm

City of Playford's Population Vision 2050

Ms Cate Atkinson, General Manager, City of Playford, South Australia

Local Government is at the cutting edge of providing for and supporting sustainable communities. Before facilitating growth though, Councils need to position themselves strategically and operationally in respect to accommodating increased resident population. This presentation will provide an insight into the development of a Population Vision, and how metropolitan local government needs to ensure it strategically positions population as part of its overall strategic vision. Through this approach, local government will proactively influence its future, rather than reactively address its needs.
